

Milwaukee Public Theatre: serving the community for 35 years

We believe in theatre's potential to inspire, entertain, educate and empower. Our purpose is to be accessible: we tour wherever people gather, often performing free to the public or at very low cost.

We are as diverse as our audience. We want to be imaginative, so our style is vivid, colorful, active and interactive, inviting audiences to enter the process of creation.

For the past 35 years, Milwaukee Public Theatre has brought art, music, theatre, storytelling and dance to people of all ages, cultures and abilities in southeast Wisconsin.

If you add it all up, we've provided:

- over one million people with access to arts experiences
- over 100,000 hours of workshops for urban youth
- over 50,000 youth with programs addressing wellness issues
- over 20,000 seniors with laughter and inspiration
- over 2,000 artists with meaningful work
- over 500 youth with paid internships in the arts
- over 100 original theatreworks about issues that affect all of us
